ROLLINS 57th YEAR

ROLLINS will celebrate its 57th opening on Thursday, September 25 with a meeting of the Faculty and the launching of the Orientation Week program for incoming students. Returning undergraduates will arrive for registration on Wednesday, October 1 and everyone will get down to classes on October 2.

Registration figures at press time reveal that this year's student body will be equal to that of last year. This, in spite of the very unsettled world condition and the draft, is due in large measure to the splendid work of the alumni throughout the country in cooperation with the Office of Admissions. They have assisted largely in contacting prospective students and "selling" them on Rollins.

The Orientation Week program will consist of assemblies, talks by various members of the Administration and Faculty on the Rollins Plan, courses in Character Hygiene, Placement Tests, College opportunities and responsibilities, Chapel Choir Auditions, Physical examinations, individual meetings with advisors, College sings, a movie and informal social get-togethers at various dormitories following the evening assemblies in order to become better acquainted. On Saturday afternoon, September 27 from 4 to 6 there will be an All-College tea dance at the President's House to which alumni are invited.

New Members of the Faculty

Dr. Nathan C. Starr, formerly Acting Dean of Williams College and a graduate of Harvard and Oxford Universities has been appointed Associate Professor of English for the coming year. Dr. Starr will replace Dr. Herman F. Harris who retired last June.

Graduating "cum laude" from Harvard in 1917, Dr. Starr entered the U. S. Army and served as a First Lieutenant in the Infantry, with a year's service overseas, until the close of the World War when he entered Oxford and received his B.A. and M.A. degrees in the Honor School of Jurisprudence. Later, he entered the Graduate School at Harvard where he took the A.M. and Ph.D. degrees in English Language and Literature. He also served as one of the first Tutors in modern languages at Radcliffe as well as at Harvard.

Before joining the faculty at Williams College, where he served as Assistant Dean and later Acting Dean for six years, he taught at Colgate University and at St. John's College in Annapolis, Md. At the latter institution he was also Assistant to the President and Dean of Juniors and Seniors. Last year he devoted his time to independent research at the University of North Carolina, working on a book treating fundamental assumptions underlying literature, and on a study of concepts of Romanticism. He also continued creative work in poetry at the University.

A contributor of both learned and general articles to English and American periodicals, his specialized fields of teaching include Neo-Classicism and Romanticism, Elizabethan non-dramatic literature, Honors Work and Reading Courses, and Contemporary Fiction.

Count Jehan de Noue, who lectured at Rollins College last year as a member of the Adult Education faculty during the winter term, is returning to the College as a member of the faculty this year. The Count will teach courses in French and French civilization.

Distinguished as a lecturer and world-traveler, Count de Noue is a member of an illustrious French family that traces its descent from the Tenth Century. The old family title is Marquis de la Granche, and the Count has many connections in America. His great-grandfather was Major-General William S. Harney, famed in the Mexican and Indian Wars.

As vice-president of the National Society for the Safeguarding of French Art, Count de Noue originally came to the United States to express the appreciation of the French people for the splendid cooperation of the American Committees in restoring ruined masterpieces of architectural and scenic splendor. He remained in this country, lecturing on French art and culture, until called into military service with the French army at the start of the war.

Because of his excellent command of the English language, Count de Noue was assigned to the British Expeditionary Force as a liaison officer. He was in the battalion of the Coldstream Guards and took part in the battle of Flanders and the historic fighting and retreat from Dunkirk.

Joe Justice of Rollins football fame has been appointed Freshman Coach at Rollins.

ESCAPE FROM SYRIA

By ELEANOR M. SPRAGUE

COATS, purses, glasses and slippers! These essentials we decided upon in case of an air raid.

5 A. M. and the siren. The purses, glasses, many slippers and some coats were missing when we found ourselves shivering and half awake huddled in the basement shelter listening to faint anti-aircraft fire and a plane overhead. Half an hour later the all-clear signal sounded and we clambered back up the stairs to bed.

This was in Haifa after we had been the first to receive visas and cross the border from Syria before the British invasion.

"Call the Jerusalem Consul and tell him we are sending everyone out in the next few days and to find places for about 150 people," had been the parting words from the President of the American University of Beirut as we drove out of his grounds on May 19th.

Once we were put off the road to Jerusalem by a police car and told to take to the bushes until the plane overhead disappeared. During the next few days we sat on the terrace of the palatial Y.M.C.A. and received our friends, the faculty, staff, and mission people as they drove up to be assigned to the hotels and pensions that had been canvassed. Only two suitcases were allowed each person; so all possessions had been left behind, hastily packed on very short notice. The hardest part of all had been leaving the pets.

The next stop would be Egypt; but, as for Palestine, visas could not be granted unless one held a boat ticket out to prove they weren't going to stay in Egypt, or a real emergency situation arose as it had in Syria. No information concerning movements of boats could be circulated; so tickets could not be purchased outside of Egypt.

Rumors, rumors, — we lived on them.

Twenty-eight American boats coming to Suez with supplies. . . . The President Line stopping at Capetown

Editor's Note—Eleanor Sprague is the daughter of Mrs. Robert J. Sprague, formerly Dean of Women at Rollins and the late Dr. Sprague, Dean and at one time acting President of Rollins. Eleanor went out to Beirut, Syria four years ago as dietitian of the American University Hospital. Along with 150 other Americans, she was evacuated last May when it was feared the Germans were coming into Syria. We are glad to have an account of her interesting and exciting trip back to the States. She left Beirut on May 15 landing in New York August 20! Three months for the trip which usually takes about 3 weeks!

on the way from Bombay to New York. . . . 1,000 Americans at Suez trying to get out. . . . The Iraqi situation clearing up and the Silver Java line might come to Bosrah. . . . The British moving fast into Syria and we might be able to return. . . . Cairo was being bombed. . . . Perhaps we might go overland or fly from Cairo to Capetown. . . . Increased bombing of Haifa and Jerusalem would be next. . . . The State Dept. might send a boat for us. . . . American supply boats were not allowed to carry passengers.

What were we to believe during a month in the heat and blackout of Jerusalem which swarmed with soldiers? Some of the crowd worked in canteens, hospitals, or censorship bureaus; and all lived as cheaply as possible until finally 60 Egyptian visas were granted.

The train to Cairo was packed; soldiers, baggage, messy lunches, broken thermos bottles, and sleeping babies. The Suez Canal and Customs had been bombed the night before. There at the station, scrambling among baggage and sleeping soldiers in the blackout, six hours was a long wait. At length we again started, about midnight, and certainly looked like real refugees when the train pulled into Cairo at 6 A. M.

"Who wants to go to South Africa, and take their chances on getting further?" We awoke to this call at noon. Thirty of us signed up, others thinking it safer to wait for a possible chance to go by Australia. We bought tickets to Durban and five days later were put on a boat train.

Suez was filled with troop and supply ships, large and small, in war paint, stripped of names, and most of them with obvious guns and ominous looking trappings. After much confusion with luggage and hold up for tips (Never travel in Egypt if you like efficiency and want to hold on to your pennies . . . they get you every time) we boarded a tender which wound its way out through the bay. Much speculation as to our fate drew forth hopes of finding the Queen Elizabeth waiting, against prophecies that it would probably be a small freighter, when we drew alongside an enormous gray wall of port holes and crawled through the hatch. Then began a search for the name which was unearthed on an obscure life preserver—the new Mauretania.

Life on a troop ship in wartime could fill a book, so it is just as well space is limited here. Physical description includes; no deck chairs, no doors on cabins, all fancy furniture and fittings removed, decks full of rolled up hammocks, cabins filled with as many crude bunks as could possibly be built in, and only a minimum crew maintained. The boat was carrying 4,500 troops from Durban to Suez on return trips. We were only an incidental favor as the boat travelled down practically empty.

"What is the hottest place on the earth?" The Red Sea usually tops the lists, so imagine travelling through it blacked out. That means all outside doors and port holes sealed tight from about six P. M. until dawn with the air-conditioning system not working. Sleep was practically impossible and there was no place but the hard deck to sleep outside. The temperature ran from 110-120° F and perhaps higher with terrific humidity. We just dripped!

Nothing was to be thrown overboard, even a cigarette butt, and no smoking allowed on deck at night, as paper and waste in the water might locate the boat for attack by submarine or raider. Life preservers had to be carried at all times and frequent alarms sounded for practice mustering of all on board.

No information as to our course could be given out. After passing the Gulf of Aden it got rougher and cooler, and we never knew what day we crossed the Equator or whether we went inside or outside of Madagascar. We figured we travelled about 6,000 miles down the coast of Africa. The last two days we were getting into colder climate (opposite seasons south of the equator); so on the tenth day out all dug into luggage for woolens.

Relief from sitting about deck on life preservers was offered a small group of us one day by an invitation to the Captain's cabin for cocktails. This was to meet a

Haifa Harbor and the City which has been heavily bombed recently

Commander and Rear Admiral of the Royal Navy who was riding back after taking the convoys to Suez.

Durban loomed in view on the morning of the eleventh day out, July 4th; but so did a convoy of thirteen boats in from a six weeks trip from England carrying troops and supplies. These had right of way so we put down anchor beside the Ile de France which had passed us on the way down carrying the King of Greece and other evacuees, and tried to control ourselves. The races were on and it was a holiday in Durban, so there wouldn't have been any room in the city anyway. The ship served us a special Fourth of July dinner and that night at anchor we feasted our eyes on the first lighted city we had seen in months. By afternoon the next day the last convoy boat came out of the bottle-neck harbor and we were recognized by the Port Authority and allowed to dock.

The city was packed with soldiers, many drunk and having a gay time, but you couldn't blame them. Remarks were overheard such as, "Well, you might as well, you may be dead next month" which made one think a bit and forgive a lot. Every British and Colonial type of uniform imaginable was to be seen.

Woodstock Reunion

1941

By CLARA ADOLFS, '30

IN SPITE of heavy rains the day before, August 16th dawned bright and lovely, only to cloud over and drizzle just about the time many would have started on the road to Woodstock. However, a hundred or more braved the elements to take personal greetings to Prexy Holt for his birthday. And about noon when the group left the beautiful summer White House of Rollins for Roseland Park, the weather man relented and sent refreshing breezes to blow away the clouds, and let the sun shine down.

"Peanuts" Hall, '30, chairmaned the committee in charge of the Reunion with Matt Ely, '40, serving as chairman of the entertainment committee. Guests were greeted by A. J. Hanna, '17, and his efficient reception committee of Leslie I. Taylor, '27, Hartford, Helen Steinmetz, '04, Norristown, Pa, Yves de Chambure, '44, Paris, Jean Densmore, '40, Boston, Clara Adolfs, '30, Winter Park, Frank, '35, and Pres, '42, Wetherell, East Woodstock and Frances Montgomery, '41, New York City.

Thanks to arrangements made by the New York Club, no one had to bother carrying lunch, for a caterer served a most appetizing and satisfying meal. And the best part of it was, as announced by "Riley" Weinberg, the food was absolutely free! But of course to get any of it, one had to have utensils which could be had only by paying Bob Stephens, '31, half a dollar. Prexy had to work hard to blow out the candles on the huge birthday cake held by Tita Stueve, '38 and Peanuts Hall, '30, but he managed with only two or three puffs.

Alumni President Tom Johnson, '34, acted as toastmaster, naturally calling upon Prexy Holt first of all to tell of the progress of Rollins. He made the most of the opportunity right away to tell that Professor Hanna, '17, had done the unexpected, and of course introduced the charming and gracious Mrs. Hanna; he also made Virginia Biddle Barrett, '39, and her husband stand forth, and told about the recently announced engagement of Frank Wetherell, '35. Treasurer Brown, having just arrived from Winter Park, told of the progress being made on the two new buildings, and answered some questions about them. We missed Prexy and George playing their tin whistles, but a nucleus of the "Singing Waiters" was there, and led by Matt Ely, '40, Don Cram, '41 and Pres Wetherell, '42, many of the old favorites were sung. The final score of the baseball game was not made public, nor have any returns been sent in on the stiff and aching muscles of the next day! However the Reunion was a joyous success: old acquaintances were renewed, new ones made, and friendships deepened just as Prexy would have them. And as we scattered once again in all directions, it was "Still with a heart where loyal memories glow,

Still with a song for Rollins ringing clear,
Guide of our youth, O Alma Mater, dear."

Married

PROFESSOR Alfred Jackson Hanna and Miss Kathryn T. Abbey, head of the Department of History, Geography and Political Science in the Florida State College for Women were married on July 5.

The ceremony took place at St. John's Episcopal Church in Tallahassee in the presence of a group of intimate friends of the couple. The bride was given in marriage by her brother Stuart Abbey and George Holt acted as best man for Mr. Hanna. Mr. and Mrs. Hanna left immediately by motor for Woodstock, Conn., where they have spent the summer.

Mrs. Hanna received the degree of Doctor of Philosophy from Northwestern University and has been an outstanding member of the faculty of Florida State College for the past fifteen years. She directed the Federal archives survey in Florida and is the only woman chairman of a national committee of Phi Beta Kappa. She is the author of "Florida, Land of Change."

Professor Hanna has been at Rollins since his graduation, is President Holt's right hand, is Professor of History, author of "Flight Into Oblivion", and is founder of the Union Catalog of Floridiana. Both Mr. and Mrs. Hanna are contributors to the dictionaries of American biography and history and to various historical magazines. He has a great host of friends among the alumni of Rollins who will be interested to know of his marriage.

New Buildings

The new French House, the gift of Mrs. Mable Knowles Gage of Worcester, Mass., will be completed and ready for use with the opening of College. It is a very lovely building and beautifully furnished through the generosity of Mrs. Gage. All classes in French will be held in this building.

The Student Union and Alumni building is progressing rapidly and it is expected that they will be ready for occupancy around Christmas time.

Furniture Needed

There are a few pieces of furniture needed for the Reception room in the Alumni House. The room is to be furnished in Early American or Colonial.

There is a spot where a lovely old table with a standing chair on either side would fit in beautifully, a dignified old brass fireplace set is needed, a few pieces of antique glass or pottery could well be used, smaller tables, perhaps a footstool or two, and occasional chairs.

If you consider it a privilege to have a part in furnishing YOUR reception room on the campus, will you not be good enough to take a snap shot of the piece or pieces you feel would fit appropriately into the room and send the snap shot to the Alumni Office. It will make it a much more intimate and homey room and one you will enjoy just that much more on your visits to the campus. PLEASE send that snapshot very soon.

Football Outlook

For '41

TWENTY-FIVE varsity players and a half dozen freshmen reported to Coach Jack McDowall in Asheville on Labor Day, as the Rollins Tars opened preparations for a tough campaign this fall.

Only six lettermen from last season were on hand—Frank Grundler, Buddy Bryson, Doyle Darnold, Paul Meredith, Bill Justice and Grady Ray. Others reporting were Mervin Thal, Ronald Green, Pershing Scott, Ed Friedson, Ed Acree, Trammell Whittle, Oliver Barker, Gus Koulouris, Floyd Jaggears, Red Harris, Ralph Chisholm, Bill Middlebrooks, James Blalock, Reedy Talton, Earl Tyler, Ed Weinberg, Quentin Bittle, Dave Frazier and Sam Pugh.

Prospects for the Tars, who lost last season to Davidson and had a perfect record in the SIAA are “not so hot” in view of the loss of 13 players through graduation and selective service. With sophomores in an outright majority on the squad roster, a good many of the key positions on this year's team will have to be manned by the second-year group. It is more than likely that there will be eight sophs in the lineup, an unusual situation for a McDowall-coached eleven for the Tar mentor usually constructs his teams around a backbone of starting seniors.

Defensively the Tar line will probably be as tough as in former years. Offensively, the smoothness of the entire unit will be something of a mystery until the season gets under way. Much of the team's success will depend on the strides the backs can make in their kicking and passing.

Then there is the schedule which is certainly gruelling for the amount of experienced material McDowall has on hand. Starting September 20, the Tars tee off against Davidson, a tough school of the Southern Conference at Davidson, N. C., who marred an otherwise perfect record for the Tars last year. A week later on the homeward path from the Asheville training camp, they play Newberry at Newberry, S. C., a team that also had a perfect record in the SIAA last year but did not match Rollins in the number of games played in the conference. The Newberry tilt may be a hazardous one, for the South Carolinians have a feud on with the Tars, and the Rollins men must point for the following week when they engage the University of Miami in the Orange Bowl on the night of October 17.

October 24, Rollins plays its first home game in Greater Orlando Stadium against Mercer, the first of four home engagements in five weeks. Broken only by the Tampa U. game, set for November 14 in Tampa, the Tars have home games with Davis-Elkins on November 7, Presbyterian on November 21, and Howard on November 28, with not a “breather” among them.

Joe Justice

Joe Justice, 1939 all-time Rollins back, returns this year as a newly-appointed member of the coaching staff. As freshman football coach, he will be primarily concerned with the success of the first-year squad, but his duties will also include working with the varsity backfield in early fall practice at Asheville and during winter practice sessions.

Justice was one of the finest backs ever developed by Jack McDowall. In his senior year, he was chosen on the 32 team SIAA Conference all-star eleven and was a unanimous choice for the All-Florida honor team. He also captained the Rollins basketball team from a guard position and played four years of baseball at second base. Upon his graduation he was awarded the Omicron Delta Kappa trophy, given to the best all-round athlete of his class over a four year period.

For the past two summers he played second base for the Sanford Seminoles in the Class D Florida State League, and last year served as assistant football coach at Winter Haven High School.

“Dope Sheet”

Complete information on this year's team including statistics, sketches of the players and other pertinent facts, have been compiled in a “Football Dope Sheet” by Gwen Patterson of the Rollins Publicity Department and will be sent to any alumnus upon request. Send for yours today and FOLLOW THE TARS.

Professor Herman Harris Retires

Professor Herman F. Harris retired last June from active teaching on the Rollins Faculty. Professor and Mrs. Harris came to Rollins in 1924 to join the English faculty. Mrs. Harris was Associate Professor of English at the time of her death in 1931. Professor Harris has been Professor of English since 1924.

Rollins Tennis Champs

Pauline Betz, '43, enjoyed the best summer of her tennis career having reached the finals of both the National Singles and Doubles tournaments, also winning the National Clay Court Championship at Chicago. She will be ranked at Number 2 position this year.

Jack Kramer, '45, won the National Doubles for the second straight year, with his partner Ted Schraeder. They are the youngest combine ever to win the coveted doubles championship. His singles play was not up to par, however, he probably will drop down the ranking ladder to number seven or eighth place.

Dodo Bundy, '44, played excellently this year having teamed with Betz in the Doubles and her ranking in singles should be unchanged. She will still be in the Number 3 spot.

Ed Alloo, '44, reached the finals of the Intercollegiate Championships at Montclair and was favored to win it, only to run into a confusion about the time the match was to be played, thus was defaulted. He or Ed. Amark, '43, should be the winner of this Tournament this next summer.

Ed Amark's play this summer will undoubtedly place him in the first twenty for the first time in his career. Ed was a most improved player this summer.

Bob Davis, '41, played the entire circuit with the exception of the National Singles at Forest Hills, which he missed because of the draft. Bob will get a commission in the Naval Reserves.

George Rogers, '35, Head Coach, High School, Woodsville, N. H. (now on leave serving in the U. S. Army).

Will Rogers, '33, Head Coach, High School, Lancaster, N. H.

Carl Thompson, '39, Head Coach, High School, Belle Glade, Fla.

Richard Turk, '39, Principal and Coach, High School, Clewiston, Fla.

After returning to the boat for one more night we spent the next morning seeing Durban which is a truly beautiful city. The afternoon was spent nursing our luggage at the station; so we missed a Zulu dance festival, much to our regret.

Johannesburg was cold. Three days of hugging the hotel fireplace between trips to see diamond cutting, the Zoo, and the city in general, sufficed. Two more frosty days and nights across the Veld put many to bed with colds in Capetown where the hotel was on a beautiful esplanade along the shore. It is about 1200 miles from Durban to Capetown.

Again no information concerning movements of boats could be given out and no American boat could take us without American dollars; our credit was in English pounds with Cooks. One member of the party practically lived at Cooks to get spot news of any stray boat or passage. On the fifth day he called the hotel with the following message: "Eat, pack and be at the Immigration Office at two o'clock. I am buying tickets for England. Get visas for Trinidad and England. Am cabling New York for money to be sent to Trinidad in the hope we'll land there."

We hurried about wondering what it was to be this time. Another troopship! It was the one from the convoy that we had laughed at in Durban because the second smokestack was shorter than the first giving a strange silhouette. It was a P. & O. ship, the Mooltan, carrying R.A.F., marines, distressed seamen (men who have lost their ships), and a few passengers for England, supposedly via the west side of the Atlantic.

Again we didn't know when or where we were going, still sailing under sealed orders; so we fell into the usual routine of bridge, games on deck, reading and knitting, with variety offered by a show put on by the R.A.F. and a party in the captain's cabin. The weather changed quickly to equator temperature and sleep in stuffy cabins again became a struggle.

We wished for a map to trace our course for we zigzagged all over the Atlantic. At times the boat made right angle turns every nine minutes. One day the alarm went off unexpectedly. Within three minutes everyone was below in the main hall with life preservers on. Questioning looks were answered with, "We don't know, there's a boat on the horizon that doesn't answer a signal."

Through the hatch we could see a boat on one side and a speck on the opposite horizon. We were going around in circles cut as sharply as the ship could make them. Eventually the speck disappeared and the all-clear was given. The boat we could see came nearer and had answered signals, being an American freighter; but the other had not been identified. We had been within shooting range of a raider, which explained the circling to avoid being an easy target.

"Land—it must be Trinidad." Morning of the nineteenth day, and much excitement. We skirted the shore and passed between the islands until boats of all descriptions anchored off Port of Spain came in view. At noon anchor was dropped outside the harbor.

"Will you admit it's Trinidad now?" someone asked the chief steward.

"Well, to tell the truth, I've never been here; so I can't say," was the answer.

Officials came aboard, but no gang planks went down; so we sat as we had at Durban. That night lights were allowed and the R.A.F. orchestra played for a dance on deck. Needless to say the men greatly outnumbered the women.

The next morning we still could get no information as to whether we would be landed. Many rumors circulated and by noon boredom set in, so after lunch all repaired to the cabins for the usual siesta.

Suddenly the motors throbbed.

"What's that?" One head after another was thrust out of the port holes.

"Guess we're going somewhere," was the only reply.

The ship was definitely moving away from Trinidad. Rumor had it that Curacao (for oil) was the destination or that possibly Halifax might be the next stop.

The following day was spent at sea, but the next day the island of Curacao loomed in view. As we approached the harbor a Grace Line ship went by toward the city of Willemstadt. It seemed to be swallowed up by the city as it simply disappeared. We followed the channel which runs through quaint Dutch streets coming out into an inner harbor. Everyone dashed about getting packed and dressed ready to get off. All the troops wanted shore leave, of course. We dropped anchor for half an hour and then steamed out the channel. As we passed the entrance and headed toward open sea again all R.A.F., marines, and passengers turned and waved to the pilot and captain on the bridge with a loud "Boo-o-o."

Where now? Only eight miles up the shore to the oil dock, we actually tied up. The next announcement was "No one allowed ashore."

That seemed more than we could take. Surely there'd be no need for stops before reaching England if they refuelled there. If there was anything in the Halifax rumor it was taking a big chance. Messages were sent ashore and finally a representative of the group was allowed off to contact the American consul and the powers that be, only to return with no answer. That night we pulled out into the harbor and sat some more. All aboard were doing all they could to get us off, and a representative of the Shell Oil Co. was pulling all strings possible. The next morning the troops were given shore leave and our spokesman again went ashore. By noon we had had no word. The afternoon dragged on until suddenly we heard: "All ashore immediately." At last! A grand send off by all on board and we were on the lighter headed for shore.

All twenty of us were dispersed to small hotels. We had no money. Telegrams and cables flew to Trinidad and New York. Finally after a whole week of being broke to the point of actually rationing cigarettes, we found ourselves with tickets for a Grace Liner to New York and nineteen hundred dollars in cash.

Lights on board and no life preservers to carry! Only eight days to New York, and four of them were taken up in South American ports of call. It was hard to believe.

A group of us took advantage of the stops and enjoyed a 200 mile drive through the mountains of Venezuela. This was a scenic thrill, but boarding the boat at the last takeoff for New York was the greatest thrill of all.

FUTURE ALUMNI

Martha Elizabeth, 15 months old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Duane Carnes (Annabeth Wilson, '26), San Diego, Calif.

(We shall be delighted to print pictures of babies of Rollins alumni if glossy prints suitable for reproduction are sent to the Alumni Office, Rollins College.)

CLASS NOTES

Gay Nineties

Secretary: Henry B. Mowbray, 442 Chase Ave., Winter Park, Fla.

The many friends of Adelia Swain Smith (Mrs. H. S.) will regret to hear of her death on June 15 at her home in Sarasota following a heart attack. Mrs. Smith was the sister of Fred Swain of New York City. Mrs. Smith came to Florida with her parents in 1876, she attended the public schools of Anthony, Florida and Muncie, Indiana and then entered Rollins. Mrs. Smith has a host of friends among the early alumni of Rollins who will regret to hear of her death. She was greatly interested in welfare work, Home and Foreign Missionary activities and in everything for the betterment of mankind.

Miss Clara Louise Guild's many friends will regret to hear of her illness at her home in Winter Park.

Class of 1908

Secretary: Leon B. Fort, 715 Woodlawn Blvd., Orlando, Fla. Thirty-sixth Reunion in 1944.

Marguerite Drennen has given to Rollins two very useful flood lamps for exterior purposes. They will be most helpful at the time of the Gypsy Fiesta and other outdoor activities.

Ruby Edna Pierce spent two months in the Northwest during the past summer. She went up into Alaska and into the Yukon Territory. She is editor of the Palm Beach News.

Class of 1910

Secretary: Margaret Doggett, 119-20 Union Turnpike, Kew Gardens, L. I., N. Y. Thirty-fourth Reunion in 1944.

The many friends of Miss Mary Christen Meriwether will regret to learn of her sudden death following a heart attack on August 12 at the home of her sister, Louise Meriwether Batchelor in Winter Park.

Class of 1917

Secretary: Randolph Lake, Forest Lake, Minn. Twenty-fifth Reunion in 1942.

(Ed. Note) Word has been received of the death on April 10 of the father of Randolph Lake. The sympathy of his many Rollins friends go out to him. Bill, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Lake, was graduated in June from the Fort Union Military Academy in Virginia.

Class of 1918

Secretary: Anne Stone, Winter Park, Fla. Twenty-fifth Reunion in 1945.

(Ed. Note) Anne Stone is resuming her teaching at the Orlando Senior High School and in addition to this she will also be a member of the faculty of the New Junior College in Orlando. Anne will teach two classes in Spanish in the new College.

Class of 1919

Secretary: Dr. Florence Stone, 76 Columbia Heights, Apt. 3-F, Brooklyn, N. Y. Twenty-third Reunion in 1942.

Bob and Marjorie (Talman) Hutchinson report a grand vacation motor trip through the New England states with a stop-over in New York during the month of July. Bob and Marjorie live in Hollywood, Calif.

Celia Salomon spent a few weeks during the summer visiting her parents in Orlando. Miss Salomon is a concert pianist in New York City.

(Ed. Note) Florence Stone is a very, very busy person. During the summer she has been in charge of the fitting out of two new laboratories in the Department of Bacteriology for the Long Island College of Medicine. The two new laboratories are located at 250 Baltic Street. In addition to being responsible for the work in the two new laboratories she is also supervisor of two laboratories at the King's County Hospital.

Class of 1923

Secretary: Raymond W. Greene, Winter Park, Fla. Twenty-second Reunion in 1945.

The many friends of Mrs. Earle Haight (Irma Hoffman) will regret to hear of her sudden death following only a few days illness on July 4. Earle and Irma with their family of five children had recently moved to El Paso, Tex., where Earle is a First Lieutenant in the Reserve.

Class of 1924

Secretary: Curtis T. Atkinson, Park Lane Apartments, Mt. Vernon, N. Y. Twenty-first Reunion in 1945.

The many friends of Ruth Scudder will regret to hear of the sudden death of her father late in June. Ruth's father had served the people of the Isle of Pines for 25 years as pastor and teacher. He was so beloved on the Island that he was given a service first in Spanish and then in English, the first time such an honor had ever been given an American. Ruth continues her work in Farmington, Conn., as librarian.

Dr. T. Campbell Thompson, better known as Tommy, spent a couple of weeks during July with his parents in Maitland. Tommy is a very well known "med" in New York City.

Class of 1929

Secretary: Nancy Brown, 2620 - 16th St., N.W., Washington, D. C.

Ann Lupton Shook spent a month with her parents in St. Petersburg then sailed from New York early in August for Puerto Rico. Ann is doing library work in Mayaguez. Her son returned with her.

Phyllis Walter is Assistant Superintendent of Nurses at the Orange General Hospital in Orlando, Fla.

James E. Bartlett, Jr. arrived in Orlando, Fla. the middle of June to begin his duties as assistant pastor of the First Methodist Church of that city. Jimmie has been pastor of the Methodist Church in Allegan, Mich. for a number of years.

Frank S. Abbott has been made manager of the Casa Del Mirasol Hotel, located on Davis Island in Tampa, Fla. For the past few winters Frank has been at the Venice-Myaka Hotel in Venice.

(Ed. Note) Nancy received a Civil Service appointment early in July for a secretarial position in Washington and resigned her position as Librarian in the Winter Park Public School. Nancy reports liking her work very much and she is finding Washington a most interesting city to be in just now.

Class of 1930

Secretary: Clara Adolfs, Rollins College, Winter Park, Fla. Fourteenth Reunion in 1944.

A bouquet to Virginia Stelle! She included us on her postal card list while on her vacation. Wish everybody would make a note, and the next time they take a trip just send a card, thus giving us some news. Virginia and her mother visited in Michigan the latter part of August and first of September. Right now we envy her the coolness as it is as hot at Tophet in Florida. It was good to see Aurora McKay and Virginia in New York this summer, to have dinner with them and to talk for hours and hours. Aurora spent her vacation in Tampa. My own vacation in New York City was great, even if it was hard work attending classes at Columbia and the Union Theological Seminary; and attending the Rollins Reunion at Woodstock was a perfect ending. There we saw Asa Jennings (how were the muscles next day after the ball game?), Cecile Piltz who has not changed a bit, Ralph Lasbury who didn't stay long, Hugh McKean who is back home now getting ready for a big season, and Peanuts Hall who deserves much credit for a good time being had by all. The Reunion did not seem quite complete without you, Billy Chapman Hodges, and Eleanor Blish, 'cause it seems that you were both there when we were some years ago; and being so close we did hope to see Louise Hall Moore, but no doubt the weather or family duties prevented your attendance.

Due to Government changes, Ruth and Cloyd Russell did not get down to Florida as planned. Sorry not to have seen you and the boys when I went "up the river" sometime in July.

Mazzie Wilson has given permission to say that she went to Asheville during the summer.

On June 21st Catherine Wilson Lloyd arrived at the home of J. Harlan and Helen Cavanaugh Lloyd down in Coconut Grove. And on the next day a boy (what's his name?) came to Barney M. and Sarah Huey Lewis in Bessemer, Alabama. Congratulations to both, and may we have snapshots for the Record?

Bob Sprague brought his family from Peoria to visit his mother for a few days in July. Holly Diane must be some daughter, 'cause no one can tell me anything about her parents, but just talk about her!

We hear that Carol Walter Cochenour and family are still crazy about Spokane, Washington, and are prospering as they deserve to.

What the Sarasota football team will do without its popular coach we do not know, but anyhow Chet Ihrig has forsaken the schoolroom and football field to enter the business world. More power to you, Chet.

Our poet, Boots Weston Tuttle has been made assistant editor of the Florida Magazine of Verse, which we hope won't keep her too busy to compose some of her own lovely poetry. She and daughter, Judy, spent several weeks at the Huckleberry Mountain Artists Colony near Hendersonville, N. C., as well as paying a brief visit to Miami.

Class of 1931

Secretary: Jewel Lewter, Box 425, Orlando, Fla. Twelfth Reunion in 1944.

Bill Rice, Jr. has been appointed Principal of the High School in Apopka. He with Dorothea (Smoak) and little Billy moved from their home in Orlando on the first of September to make their home in Apopka. During the summer Bill has been swimming instructor at the pool at Dubsread Country Club, Orlando.

Richard Buckmaster is working in Washington, D. C.

Ted and Miriam (Barnhill) Kew are living in the new home they built during the summer at 1721 Westchester Ave., Winter Park. Ted is chemist with the Dr. Phillips Co. in Orlando.

Ilene Hall was graduated from the Washington Sanitarium and Hospital School of Nursing on the 14th of August.

(Ed. Note) Jewel spent her vacation on a conducted tour of Cuba. The trip was made in August and Jewel reports a most interesting time. She will again be teaching in the Marks Street school in Orlando.

Class of 1932

Secretary: Lucille Tolson Moore (Mrs. William), 610 Butler Blvd., Daytona Beach, Fla. Eleventh Reunion in 1943.

Lottie Turner Cook spent the month of August visiting her family in Jacksonville. She had hoped to visit the campus, but time slipped away. Lottie is living in Arlington, Va. Her husband is with the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Gwen Patterson, Publicity Director for Rollins, was named on the Committee on Ethics for the American College Publicity Association which reported at the National Convention held in Berkley, Calif., August 10-13.

Charles Brooks was appointed Regional Attorney for the National Relations Board for the 19th Region which includes the states of Washington, Oregon, Idaho and the Territory of Alaska. He has headquarters in the United States Court House in Seattle, Wash.

Lucille LeRoy Turquette spent two weeks vacation in Florida visiting her family and was on the campus on July 28. Lucille is secretary to the Dean of Women at Cornell University and her husband is doing graduate work there.

Robert Cleveland is staff assistant to W. H. Harrison, chief of the Construction, Shipbuilding and Supplies branch of the OPM in Washington. Bob addressed the 24th annual convention of the National Association of Leather Glove Manufacturers, Inc. at the opening session on June 20.

(Ed. Note) Lucille has been guest soloist on several of the programs of the Daytona Beach Band during the summer season.

Class of 1933

Secretaries: Thelma VanBuskirk Douglas (Mrs. Henry), Box 5232 Seabreeze Station, Daytona Beach, Fla. and Philip Horton, Oakwood Drive, Peekskill, N. Y. Tenth Reunion in 1943.

Dorothea Smoak Rice, with her husband, Bill, and small son Billy, have moved to Apopka where Bill is principal of the High School. They have been living in Orlando.

Floyd W. Shor is with General Electric in Pittsfield, Mass. and is living in Lanesborough, Mass.

Announcements have been received of the marriage on June 7 of Edwin B. Libbey and Miss Dolores Rohde. The wedding took place in Chicago. Mrs. Libbey is a graduate of Stetson University. Ed has been doing graduate work at the University of Chicago during the past year.

Weetie Wilson attended the National Music Camp at Interlachen, Michigan during the summer.

Robert Currie returned from teaching duties in the Hawaiian Islands this summer, spent most of the summer in Winter Park and plans to write this winter.

Senior Loan Fund

The Senior Loan Fund is still performing excellent service. It will be remembered that this Loan Fund was originated by the Class of '29, the principal of which has been increased by subsequent classes.

The Class of '41 contributed $294.26 toward the Fund. Following is a statement showing the status of the Senior Loan Fund at the close of the fiscal year, June 30, 1941:

Loans outstanding July 1,
1940 .....	$2,875.71
Loans made during past
college year .....	805.00

Total loans .....	$3,680.71
Loans repaid during year....	320.50

Loans outstanding June 30,
1941 .....	$3,360.21

In addition to the above loans there was cash on hand available to Seniors $369.88, June 30, 1941.

While a considerable amount of loans are past due, every consideration is given to requests for extension where the payment would work a hardship on the alumnus. As this is an honor Loan Fund, it is extremely unlikely that anyone will refuse to repay his loan at the earliest possible moment.

The Loan Fund is managed by a committee appointed by each succeeding Senior Class assisted by Mrs. Katharine Lehman, secretary, and Mr. F. H. Ward, treasurer of the Alumni Association. Mr. Brown, treasurer of the College, is the permanent treasurer of the Fund. The student committee passes upon all applications for loans, and the College officials merely act as the permanent consultants of the Fund. The Senior Loan Fund is annually being built up by Seniors for the use of Seniors and under the management of Seniors.

Mary Kinser and Donald Angus McLeod were married on the 19th of August in Bracebridge, Ontario. Mr. McLeod is a member of the Royal Canadian Air Force.

Betty Lynch and Beth Cutter spent the first week in April in Winter Park renewing college acquaintances. During the summer Betty was a councilor in Camp Kellvolet up in Hancock, Vt. Beth is with the Social Service Department in New York City.

Stanley Todd, Jr. was a very brief visitor on the Rollins campus early in the summer. Stan is with the U. S. Forest Service and is located in Greenwich, Conn.

We have heard rumors of wedding bells but have no facts.

Holly Edward Lewis has accepted a position as secretary at the Metarie Park Country Day School in New Orleans, La.

(Ed. Note) Thelma spent a few days visiting her mother in Maitland during August and came over to the Alumni Office for a visit.

Class of 1934

Secretaries: Janet Gibney Morse (Mrs. Stewart), West Woodstock, Conn. and Burleigh Drummond, Westinghouse Electric, Atlanta, Ga. Ninth Reunion in 1943.

George Edwards received his M.D. from Temple University School of Medicine in June and is now an interne at the Chestnut Hill Hospital in Philadelphia.

Miriam (Barnhill) and Ted Kew have just recently moved into a most attractive little home they built during the summer at 1721 Westchester Ave., Winter Park.

Class of 1935

Secretary: Blanche Fishback Galey (Mrs. John), Charter Oak, Pittsburgh, Pa. Seventh Reunion in 1942.

Announcements have been received of the marriage on August 30 of Jack Allen MacWatt and Miss Elizabeth Susan Redcleft at Seneca Falls, New York. Jack is with the Dairy Industry Supply Association in New York.

George Rogers is stationed with the 33rd Battalion at Camp Croft, S. C.

Word has been received by the family of Virginia Roush d'Albert Lake that she and her husband were well and are interested in the care of a little garden, a few chickens and rabbits which help to keep up their morale and simplifies the food problem. It will be remembered that and her husband are well and are inflee Paris last year and that they are now in a small country village outside the city in occupied France. Mail is not allowed to go in or out of the occupied section of France and so this news was relayed to Virginia's family by a friend. It was the first news they had received in almost a year.

Fred Scofield spent his vacation during August visiting his family in Longwood. Fred is minister of music and education at the First Baptist Church in Laurel, Miss.

Class of 1936

Secretary: Helen Jackson, 226 Park Ave., Swarthmore, Pa. Sixth Reunion in 1942.

Announcements have been received of the marriage on July 19 of Ileen Campbell to Mr. Stanley Edward Bush. The wedding took place at the First Methodist Church in Palmetto, Florida followed by a reception at the home of the bride. Ileen and her husband are living in Palmetto.

Marian Eldredge took her Master's degree in International Relations from Yale last June—she hopes to continue and receive a Ph.D. Then on July 27 she became Mrs. Robert G. Neumann. They were married at Bustin's Island, Casco Bay, Maine and are now at the Oshkosh State Teachers College, Oshkosh, Wis. where Mr. Neumann is teaching economics and political science. They met at the Zimmern School in Geneva in 1937, he has his M.A. from Amherst and is now working toward Ph.D. at the University of Minnesota.

Anna Jeanne Pendexter and Mr. Jack Macdonald were married on July 11. They are now "at home" at 1423 N. Hudson Ave., Chicago.

Law Mallard and his family are in Winter Garden where Law is teaching music in the High School.

It's Doctor Wilson Scanlon now. Scan is at the Philadelphia General Hospital.

Class of 1937

Secretary: Grace Terry Marshall (Mrs. Nelson). Fifth Reunion in 1942.

Lillias Parker was married on June 20 to Dr. Willard Phillip Bayer in Summit, New Jersey. Lillias continues her interest in music and is teaching in Westfield.

Two days later, June 22, Carol Valentine became Mrs. Hugh Emil Kabler at "High Spruces" in East Hampton, Connecticut. Her new address is 618 Wyndhurst Ave., Baltimore, Maryland. Carol is doing some special research work in nutrition at the Hospital at John Hopkins Hospital.

Frances Hyer was married in New York's Church of the Ascension to Mr. William Henry Reynolds on August 23. Frances spent sometime in Tampa in July and a number of pre-nuptial parties were given in her honor.

Dorothy May Manwaring will marry Mr. Charles Willing Huber, Jr. on September 27 at the Bryn Maur Presbyterian Church, Bryn Maur, Penn.

The best of wishes and all happiness to our summer and fall brides.

Paul Alter has been transferred from the Naval Air Base at San Juan, Porto Rico, to the Floyd Bennett Field in Brooklyn and promoted to Patrol Plane Commander. Just after he was transferred he was sent on a secret mission! Congratulations, Paul.

William Davis is in the Army now—at Camp Lee, Virginia.

It is now Sergeant Gordon L. Spence of the 32nd Infantry stationed at Fort Ord, Calif.

During the summer Ruth Elizabeth Melcher studied at the Julliard in New York. She won second highest honors and a cash award in the ninth annual Original Concert contest in Denver for her "Fuge in D Major". Ruth spent a few weeks in Winter Park with her family before returning to St. Margaret's School in Tappahannock, Va., where she teaches music.

Mr. and Mrs. William Brant (Elizabeth Mills) are announcing the birth of William Nichol Brant on July 7.

Jack Barrington and his wife visited on the campus on September 3 on their way to Arcadia where Jack is to be stationed as an instructor at the Embrey Riddle Aero Post.

Peggy LeFevre McJunkins was out in Dayton this summer with her husband while he was on a special job in connection with the construction work at Wright and Patterson Fields. They are back in Richmond, Va. now.

Class of 1938

Secretary: Opal Peters, 464 Central Ave., New Haven, Conn. Fifth Reunion in 1943.

Pictures Wanted

Please, please do not be modest! The Alumni Office appeals to all Rollins Alumni parents to send pictures of their children, 6 or under, for inclusion on the baby page of the Alumni Record. Snap shots are fine, but must be glossy prints and clear so they will reproduce well. Pictures will be printed in the order received at the Alumni Office.

Mr. and Mrs. David C. Strong (Marie Howe) are announcing the birth of a son, Michael, at their home in Cincinnati.

Anne Louise Bradford and Dr. George Russell Cadman, nephew of the late Dr. S. Parkes Cadman, were married on the afternoon of June 28 at the Helen Hughes Memorial Chapel, Silver Bay on Lake George. Anne and her husband will live in Boston where Dr. Cadman has an associateship with Dr. Killien. Dr. Cadman is a graduate of the School of Dentistry of Harvard.

Amelia Dailey Mallard and her family have moved to Winter Garden where Law is teaching in the High School.

William Schultz and Helen Swalstead, '41, were married in a lovely evening ceremony on June 27 in the Knowles Memorial Chapel. After a wedding trip to New York and into Canada they are now at home in Orlando where Bill is connected with Eastern Air Lines.

On the Fourth of July weekend Franie was visiting Jerry and they met a number of their classmates in Daytona — Skippy Arnold, Joe Wilson, Warren and Gussy Hume, Florence Swift Durrance and Ruth Hill Carrison. Quite a class reunion!

Florence Swift Durrance spent a part of the summer vacation in Virginia.

Warren and Gussy (Yust) Hume spent a few weeks visiting the Yusts in Winter Park. Warren was connected with the construction of Fort Leonard Wood out in Missouri and had such an important part in this construction that he had a secretary who had a secretary!

Mort Lichtenstein was in Winter Park for a few weeks during the summer and has now returned to Yale to resume his studies at the Drama School.

Anne Earle received her Master's degree in biochemistry last June from the University of Wisconsin. A part of her thesis was published in Industrial and Engineering Chemistry in August in the analytical section. While working for her degree she spent the month of April setting up a laboratory in Philadelphia for microbiological assay work at Smith, Kline and French Laboratories. Anne turned down several good positions to accept an offer from Scanlon Laboratories in Madison, Wis. to head their bacteriological and chemical laboratory to do research work and some routine analysis. She has an assistant and three girls working under her. Anne says she is still carrying on part of her research work at the University outside of working hours! Congratulations on your splendid record, Anne.

George H. Clarke was selected from a large number of applicants from the U. S. and Canada to attend the school for life, accident and group insurance salesman conducted by The Travelers Insurance Company in its home office at Hartford, Conn. George was until recently sales agent for the American Airlines at Washington, D. C.

Jack Makemson writes: "After all this time at the reception center they finally shipped me into the engineers. I'm really working now. I don't have to tell you who does all the hard work in the army. I think I'm too close to it for comfort." Jack is at Fort Belvoir, Virginia.

Class of 1940

Secretary: Lois Sue Terry, 2818 Morgan St., Tampa, Fla. Fifth Reunion in 1945.

Announcements have been received of the marriage on July 18 of Barbara Babb and Mr. Phillips Goodwin Jeffrey in Wellesley Hills, Mass.

Margery Chindahl's high-light of the summer was a cruise trip down in the Caribbean where she visited Haiti, Cuba, Panama, and other points South. She has returned to her position at the Sarasota High School.

Eva Rinehart visited friends in Patterson, N. J. and New York City for three weeks during August. She is teaching Math at the Memorial Junior High School in Orlando.

Ed Levy Whitner was transferred from the Newark Bears to the Kansas City Blues of the American Association. Ed suffered a wrist fracture during training last May which kept him out of the lineup this season.

Mary Marchman is teaching English and Spanish at the Lyman School, Longwood, Fla.

Aviation Cadet Joe D. Hanna, Jr. is now saluting his former roomie and now superior officer Lt. Louis Bristol Bills at the Parks Air College in East St. Louis, Ill. Louis received his "wings" in August at Shreveport, La.

Lois Sue Terry's engagement and approaching marriage has been announced in the press. Lois is to be married on September 28 at 4 o'clock in the Knowles Memorial Chapel to Clarence Edwin Boswell, Jr. Grace is to be Sue's only attendant. They are building a home of their own. Mr. Boswell is a graduate of Plant High School and is employed in the First National Bank in Tampa. He is a member of the Junior Chamber of Commerce and is a past director.

Class of 1941

Secretary: Nancy Locke Johnson (Mrs. Joe D.) Apt. 101, 1501 Catherine Court, Jacksonville, Fla.

"Fagan" Barber reports that he has worked all summer and is still working for the American Steel & Wire Company in Cleveland. He hopes to see Rollins play football while they are still in Carolina.

Manny Ehrlich was on the staff of a neighborhood community center as gym instructor in its summer program. Manny has no definite plans for the winter.

Caroline Mills joined the staff of the State Tuberculosis Sanatorium just out of Orlando, very soon after graduation. She is a medical recorder.

The Draft didn't get him after all! Dudley Darling has been deferred and so he is going to take a fling at Broadway. Dud says "for the sheer fun of it" and that if nothing comes of it he will stop such nonsense and take a job. Dud got up to Woodstock for the Summer Reunion.

With a perfectly marvelous summer at the Spanish School of Middlebury College in back of her Norine Farr has returned to Florida and taken up her teaching duties in the High School at St. Cloud, Fla. Norine saw quite a number of Rollins folks during the summer and is quite thrilled over the whole thing!

The Woodstock, N. Y. Summer Theatre must have had an interesting summer! Jess Gregg played with Sally Rand in "Rain", with Luella Gear in "The Goldfish Bowl" and had a "delightful" part in "The Wind and The Rain". Where to now, Jess?

Barbara Northern has been enjoying an interesting summer and is now located in Atlanta, Georgia where she is with the Retail Credit Co. as proofreader. She says she likes it and that the "personnel is tops".

Wally MacBriar is stationed at Scott Field, Ill. in the 371st School Squadron of the Air Corps Technical School. He is going in for radio communication.

Other members of the Class of '41 active in Defense Work are Mel Clanton, Carl Seldmayer and Bill Collins who entered the Embury-Riddle Aviation School in Miami shortly after College closed. Mel and Carl have been transferred to the Lakeland School of Aeronautics. They completed the preliminary course in Miami and are in the Lakeland school for a nine months period.

We have heard that Joe Knowles was about to get into the Army, but have nothing definite on that.

Gracia Tuttle has moved to Scarsdale, N. Y. and says she likes it fine because there are so many Rollins people around. Bower Corwin and Gracia with Anne (Anthony) Davis drove up to Augusta, Me. for Nancy's wedding. Gracia was a bridesmaid. She sent in a lot of news about the wedding and who was there, but we'll take that up a little later.

Jack Buckwalter has spent the summer at Steamboat Springs, Colo. at the Perry-Mansfield Theatre Workshop, where he played a leading part in the production of Marco Millions. This play was taken on a barnstorming tour where performances were held in school houses, ranches and in the University of Wyoming. He returns to New York this fall.

Dick Verigan drove to Wisconsin with Mr. Honaas soon after the close of college. He visited Fred Kasten and attended an alumni meeting there with Prexy, then came back to New York City and Lennox, Mass., visited Mr. and Mrs. Dougherty at Lake Dunnmore, Vt., saw Norine Farr at Middlebury, visited Paul Haley in Boston, saw many in New York, stopped in Washington to see Bill Harms, then to Fredericksburg and home. Now he is at Duke where he has entered the Medical School.

The leading article in the July issue of The Florida Naturalist is by Minter J. Westfall, Jr. Minter is entering Cornell this Fall to begin work on his Masters.

Dorothy Hugli is teaching in a school near her home town of Diamond, Ohio.

And now for the weddings—

Your secretary was married on August 9 to Joseph D. Johnson, '40, in St. Mark's Episcopal Church in Augusta, Maine. Prexy was there to give the Rollins blessing and a large number of Rollins people attended the wedding—quite a reunion. Betty Knowlton and Gracia Tuttle were among the bridesmaids. Donald Bradley, '39, was best man and Warren Siddell, Ted Reed and Bower Corwin were among the ushers. Mrs. Wendell Davis (Anne Anthony) assisted at the reception which was held at the Augusta Country Club. Buck is connected with the Aetna Casualty and Surety Company with headquarters in Jacksonville where they will live.

Betty Brock and Bill Daugherty, '40, were married at the Brock home in Washington Court House on August 7. They are in Bushnell, Fla., where Bill is coaching at the High School.
